

Permission to Reprint & Author Bio for Articles

Christopher Higgins is The Apartment Guy, a professional speaker, industry educator and marketing consultant based in Montana. Christopher's owns small multifamily property in Florida, Missouri, Montana and Saskatchewan. With 17 years of experience in the industry, Christopher started his career in West Texas with his own print apartment publications and at age 23, became the national marketing and training director for a Top-50 NAHB multi-family developer. He has leased, renovated, marketed and managed rental housing. Performing more than 150 seminars each year across North America and the UK, his topics include closing and phone skills, resident retention, Fair Housing, Internet and outreach marketing, advertising, collateral materials workshops and investment seminars. For more, visit www.theapartmentguy.net.

Color photo for use in color publications or as needed.

Permission to Reprint:

Articles on The Apartment Guy website are provided for use by apartment associations, property management associations and/or property management firms for use in a newsletter or periodical. Each is also available in Microsoft Word® for easier editing, please contact us if you would prefer that format. Limited editing in context is permitted. Use of the articles includes use of the author bio at the end of the article. Please forward a printed copy of any published piece to the address below. By printing the article, you agree to acceptance of these conditions. © 2008 The Apartment Guy.

The Apartment Guy
1302 24th Street West
Suite 294
Billings, MT 59102

The Apartment Guy
Professional Seminars Property Marketing